Inspired by Rudyard Kipling's novel of the same name, the movie tells the story of a boy named Mowgli, who is raised in the jungle by wolves and faces various trials while being confronted with the question of whether he belongs in civilized society or the wild. "The Jungle Book" remake will be a blend of live action, computer animation and 3-D technology. Because the goal is to create a more credible story, the film will likely feature more intense conflict and even offer some chilling moments, according to PopSugar, a lifestyle and news website. Slated for release on April 15, 2016, "The Jungle Book" is expected to bring in $500 million to $700 million, according to Forbes. Here's a look at the film's stars. Related: Marvel's 'Deadpool' Movie Cast Earnings: Ryan Reynolds Net Worth vs. Stan Lee Net Worth and More Neel Sethi Net Worth: Unknown Neel Sethi plays the main character, Mowgli, in the upcoming film. Although the 12-year-old's prior acting experience is limited to a role in the comedy short "Diwali," he was selected from about 2,000 potential candidates to hold the leading part. Moreover, Sethi is the only real human character in the movie; the other cast members provide voices for animated creatures. Director Jon Favreau admitted that much of the success of the movie will depend on how audiences receive Sethi. The young star needs to connect with viewers and hold their attention. While it might seem like a tall order for an inexperienced actor, Favreau believes Sethi has the charisma and physicality for the job. Sethi's red belt was also an asset in filming, especially for scenes such as the one in which he is chased by Shere Khan. A tiger who has been scarred by man, Shere Khan is played by award-winning actor Idris Elba. Related: Harry Potter Cast Showdown: Emma Watson Net Worth vs. Daniel Radcliffe Net Worth and More Lupita Nyong'o Net Worth: $500,000 Lupita Nyong'o lends her voice to the mother wolf, Raksha, in "The Jungle Book." However, the role is more about being a mother than a wolf, the emerging star explained in Vogue. Celebrity Net Worth, a celebrity finance outlet, puts Nyong'o's net worth at $500,000. Nyong'o produced the award-winning documentary "In My Genes" before making her on-screen debut in the short film "East River." It was her role as Patsey in "12 Years a Slave," however, that solidified her claim to fame. The actress has seen 76 acting award nominations or wins for her role as Patsey, including a 2014 Oscar for Best Supporting Actress. More recently, she has appeared in "Star Wars: The Force Awakens." Bill Murray Net Worth: $140 million Bill Murray plays Baloo, the free-spirited bear who wants Mowgli to remain in the jungle forever. Baloo is widely adored for singing "Bare Necessities," and Murray's rendition of the song is highly anticipated. Murray is the richest cast member on this list with a net worth of $140 million. He has built a lucrative career on his ability to master lighthearted, humorous roles. Classic examples include parts in "Meatballs," "Caddyshack" and "Ghostbusters." However, Murray also possesses strong dramatic chops. For his role in "Lost in Translation," Murray won a 2004 Golden Globe award for best actor, among other accolades. Last year, he also won a Primetime Emmy Award for Outstanding Supporting Actor in "Olive Kitteridge." Ben Kingsley Net Worth: $40 million In "The Jungle Book," Ben Kingsley voices Bagheera, the wise panther who protects and mentors Mowgli and Baloo. Kingsley is known for his award-winning performance in "Gandhi," which earned him an Oscar for Best Actor in 1983. He also stacked up accolades for his performances in "Sexy Beast" and "House of Sand and Fog." Ben Kingsley's net worth is $40 million. Scarlett Johansson Net Worth: $80 million Kaa, the mysterious python who encounters Mowgli deep in the jungle, is played by Scarlett Johansson. According to US Weekly, the star possesses the perfect voice for this alluringly creepy character — a fact that's clear even from the movie trailer. Johansson, who started acting at age 9, has used her talent to build an impressive fortune. She's appeared in several other action-adventure films, including "Avengers: Age of Ultron" and "Iron Man 2." "The Jungle Book" isn't the first time she's worked with Jon Favreau or Bill Murray. She co-starred with Murray in "Lost in Translation," a performance that earned her a Golden Globe nomination and a BAFTA award for best performance by an actress. She was nominated for the same pair of awards for her performance in "Girl With a Pearl Earring." See: 'Fantastic Beasts and Where to Find Them' Movie Cast Net Worth Christopher Walken Net Worth: $30 million Christopher Walken provides the voice of King Louie, the leader of the apes. To help make these characters more believable, the writers switched their species from orangutan — which doesn't live in the area featured in the film — to the now-extinct gigantopithecus. Walken has numerous awards for previous performances in films like "Catch Me If You Can," "Seven Psychopaths" and "The Deer Hunter," which earned him an Oscar. Christopher Walken's net worth is $30 million. 'The Jungle Book' Trailer Still Wide Open, by Brad Doty, with Dave Argabright; hardcover, 282 pages, $29.95 plus $2.50 shipping and handling, 1999; Witness Productions, Box 34, Marshall, Indiana 47859; 765-597-2487. Sprint-car-racing fans still know former driver Brad Doty, despite the fact that a serious crash in 1988 at Ohio's Eldora Speedway left him paralyzed from the waist down. When a career-ending tragedy like that befalls a driver, few colleagues will publicly recall his faults, as they speak only of his more ennobling qualities. Except that with Doty there really weren't any faults. He was one of the nice guys -- a tough competitor but universally well-liked by colleagues and fans. And he still is. From his wheelchair, Doty has remained close to sprint-car racing, working as a color commentator for TNN's television coverage of the World of Outlaws sprint-car series. Few know, though, what a battle it was for Doty to rebuild his life and rebound from the profound depression he sank into after the crash. He was hospitalized for weeks and nearly died. "For the first few days, it was me and my thumb, pumping morphine. They had a [drug] delivery system that I could apply with my thumb, and I kept it working. God, I was hurting." Still Wide Open is an honest, inspirational account of Doty's life, as told by Doty and co-author Dave Argabright, a Car and Driver contributor and columnist for National Speed Sport News. Highly recommended. Junior Johnson: Brave in Life, by Tom Higgins and Steve Waid; softcover, 192 pages, $29.95; Phoenix, Arizona: David Bull Publishing, 1999. NASCAR just signed a deal consolidating TV coverage that should be worth about $400 million a year, about four times what the fees went for in 1999. Although stock-car racing salutes its past when it's profitable to do so -- such as during its 50th anniversary marketing blitz of 1998 -- NASCAR is far more concerned with marketing deals and stock options than how it got where it is today. And it got where it is today largely through the efforts of colorful pioneers such as Junior Johnson, an excellent driver who went on to become a successful team owner. Johnson came from the backwoods, hauling bootleg whiskey -- and often getting arrested and jailed for it -- before he managed to make enough money racing to officially change careers. That career shift was memorialized by a big Tom Wolfe story in Esquire magazine titled "Junior Johnson Is the Last American Hero -- Yes!" (which inspired the 1973 film The Last American Hero, starring Jeff Bridges). That was in 1964, and a whole new world has discovered NASCAR since then. Tom Higgins wrote about NASCAR for the Charlotte Observer from 1964 until he retired in 1997, and few know more about NASCAR, or write more fluently about it. Steve Waid heads up the editorial side of NASCAR's Winston Cup Scene and Winston Cup Illustrated. They pull few punches in Brave in Life -- there are, for instance, plenty of mug shots from Junior's early arrests -- although we would have liked more on Johnson's self-imposed exile from a sport he helped to build. It's a good read, but likely not on the recommended list of NASCAR's relentlessly cheerful, forward-looking, Chamber of Commerce-inspired public-relations staffers, who would just as soon forget the sport was ever less -- or more -- than it is now.
